

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

HONORING THE MONTGOMERY COUNTY VALOR AWARD WINNERS

HON. CONSTANCE A. MORELLA

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 12, 2000

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Speaker, it gives me great pleasure today to rise and bring to the attention of my colleagues some very special public safety personnel in Montgomery County, Maryland. Every year, the Montgomery County Chamber of Commerce honors police officers and fire fighters who have shown the highest level of dedication to their noble duties. These individuals are being honored on April 14, 2000 at the 1999 Public Safety Awards Luncheon.

The Valor Awards honor public service officials who have demonstrated extreme self-sacrifice, personal bravery, and ingenuity in the performance of their duty. There are five categories: The Gold Medal of Valor; The Silver Medal of Valor; The Bronze Medal of Valor; The Honorable Mention Award; and The Bernard D. Crooke, Jr. (Police) and Leslie B. Thompson (Fire and Rescue) Community Service Award.

The Silver Medal of Valor is awarded in recognition of acts involving great personal risk. The Silver Medal of Valor Award Winners for 1999 are: Police Officer 1 Valentine Schiller, Police Officer 1 Peter Sheng, Police Officer 3 Stephen Matthews, and Police Officer 3 Curtis Jacobs.

The Bronze Medal of Valor is awarded in recognition of acts of bravery involving unusual personal risk beyond that which should be expected while performing the usual responsibility of the member. The Bronze Medal of Valor Award Winners for 1999 are: Police Officer 3 Brian Dillman, Police Officer 3 Claude Onley, Sergeant Dom Fazio, Lieutenant Daniel Irvine, Firefighter/Paramedic 3 Sherry Hohl, Firefighter/Rescuer 3 Ernest Farkas, and Firefighter/Rescuer 3 Jody Nightengale.

The Honorable Mention Award is awarded for acts that involve personal risk and/or demonstration of judgment, zeal, or ingenuity not normally involved in the performance of duties. The Honorable Mention Award Winners for 1999 are: Lieutenant Michael Garvey, Sergeant Robert Phillips, Police Officer 3 Edward Tarney, Police Officer 3 Robert Hunt, Police Officer 1 Theresa Durham, Police Officer 3 Robin M. Dyer, Firefighter/Rescuer 3 Kirk Risinger, Firefighter/Rescuer 2 Stephen Batdorff, Firefighter/Rescuer 3 Anthony Veith, firefighter/Rescuer Larry Lewis, and Firefighter/Rescuer 3 Douglas Hinkle.

The Community Service Award is awarded for dedication and initiative above and beyond the call of duty over a period of time without compensation, that has affected and benefited the citizens of Montgomery County. The Bernard D. Crooke, Jr. Community Service Award Winner for 1999 is Police Officer 2 Charles J. Welter. The Leslie B. Thompson

Community Service Award Winner for 1999 is Fire and Rescue Department Communications Manager Mary Marchone.

Due to the dedicated efforts of these public servants who place the safety and well-being of others above their own, Montgomery County is a better place to live. They have rightfully earned the highest appreciation and respect from myself, the members of the Montgomery County Chamber of Commerce, and from all the people of our community whose lives they have touched. I know my colleagues will join me in thanking these heroes for a job well done.

COMMEMORATION OF THE CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY SUBMARINE FORCE

HON. FRANK A. LOBIONDO

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 12, 2000

Mr. LOBIONDO. Mr. Speaker, yesterday, April 11, 2000, marked the centennial anniversary of the United States Navy Submarine Force. To commemorate this unique event, I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the thousands of sailors who have gallantly served our nation as members of this elite group.

April 11, 1900 ushered in the birth of this outstanding American Naval Force, which has proven its undeniable worth through every major military endeavor our country has asked the Navy to address. In World War II alone, the Navy Submarine Force scored the most complete victory of any force in any theater of war by destroying 1,314 ships between 1939 and 1945. Out of 16,000 submariners, the force lost 375 officers and 3,131 enlisted men in fifty-two submarines, the lowest casualty rate of any combatant submarine service on any side in the conflict.

Now capable of firing missiles from a vertical launch system, the Navy's Los Angeles class SSNs have proven very useful in the more restricted spaces of modern littoral war at sea. Submarine launched Tomahawks have proven extraordinarily effective in a variety of combat operations starting with Desert Storm.

With a drastically reduced force, submariners still manage to conduct both independent tactical and strategic patrols, as well as renewed joint operations with carrier battle groups. Without a doubt, the United States Navy Submarine force continues to be one of the most valuable components to our nation's well-being and security.

Thank you for your tireless effort, dedication, and contribution to America's continued prosperity and happy anniversary.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON MEDICAL SCHOOL

HON. JAY INSLEE

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 12, 2000

Mr. INSLEE. Mr. Speaker, today I commend the fine folks at the University of Washington Medical School for doing an exemplary job of preparing doctors and medical personnel for our future.

This year, The U.S. News and World Report rated the University of Washington Medical School as the TOP primary care medical school in our country. This Medical School has been their top choice for the past seven years. In choosing to recognize the University of Washington, The U.S. News and World Report looked at the school's excellent reputation, the quality of the research conducted by its students and faculty, and the low faculty to student ratio among other criteria. I would like to add to this that the University of Washington Medical School is also the leading teaching hospital in the five-state northwestern region of our country.

I am particularly impressed by the specific programs within the Medical School that The U.S. News and World Report recognized for excellence. The University of Washington Medical School has the best family medicine program and the best rural medicine program in our country. Its programs for women's health, AIDS, Pediatrics and Geriatrics are rated in the top five in our country. It also boasts leading nursing, physician assistant and dental programs.

To me, this means that the facility and administration at the University of Washington Medical School is producing the very best of the doctors who will care for our families, our parents and our children. I know that the students who attend the Medical School will spread out across our country bringing the wisdom and the skills that they learned at the University. Like all doctors, the graduates of the University of Washington Medical School maintain the gift of life. Unlike most, they have had the privilege of attending the best Medical School in the nation. I am proud that this institution graces the state that I represent and I commend all who have made the Medical School into what it is today.

HONORING THE 138TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA EMANCIPATION ACT

HON. ELEANOR HOLMES NORTON

OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, April 12, 2000

Ms. NORTON. Mr. Speaker, I thank my distinguished colleague, Representative DON MANZULLO, for joining me in our annual observance of Emancipation Day, and for his
